About MSC Group

Job Title:

MSC Group Maritime Policy Director

Location:

London, UK

Reporting to:

Senior Group Vice President, Maritime Policy & Government Affairs

Scope:

International Maritime Organization, relevant technical bodies of maritime associations, UK

Headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, and privately owned, the MSC Group is a global business engaged in the transport and logistics sector. Today, the MSC Group employs over 200,000 people worldwide.

MSC's journey started in 1970 and has evolved from a single-vessel cargo operation to the largest fleet in the world. Our continuous growth has led MSC to strategically expand into a diverse portfolio of transport and logistics solutions, including sea, rail, road, terminal infrastructure and air cargo.

Today, the MSC brand is synonymous with excellence as a world-leading cargo carrier, a respected terminal operator in some of the busiest ports, an award-winning cruise company, and a provider of numerous passenger ferries and land transport solutions.

Role – MSC Group Maritime Policy Director

As part of the MSC Group Maritime Policy and Government Affairs team, the Group Maritime Policy Director will be responsible for developing and maintaining relationships with

- International Maritime Organization and relevant technical bodies of international maritime industry associations.
- Government agencies, policymakers, and national industry associations to advance the Group's interests in UK;

This role is ideal for a proactive and strategic professional with a deep understanding of maritime regulations, and a proven ability to influence and engage with key stakeholders. The Director will act as an external advocate for MSC on priority policy matters and contribute to shaping the regulatory environment in alignment with the Group's strategic objectives.

Responsibilities

- Attending the work of the International Maritime Organization and representing MSC interests in close coordination with the MSC entities.
- Monitor and analyze national and international legislative and regulatory developments impacting the maritime sector.
- Coordinate MSC's government-facing advocacy in the UK, including national and local authorities.
- Support all MSC Group divisions in their interaction with UK institutions and national regulatory bodies.
- Represent MSC in relevant industry associations, public hearings, and policy discussions both in relation to IMO and UK policy engagement.
- Develop and implement strategies to engage with government officials and regulatory bodies.
- Advise senior leadership on public policy risks and opportunities.
- Draft and deliver policy briefings, reports, and position papers.
- Foster partnerships with key stakeholders, including national, regional and local authorities.
- Coordinate internal teams to align business strategies with public policy goals.
- Contribute to MSC's broader European and international policy agenda.

Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Marine Engineering or a related field; Master's degree preferred.
- Minimum 10 years of experience in government affairs, public policy, or regulatory roles, ideally within the maritime or logistics sectors. Experience in class society can also be considered as an advantage.
- Knowledge of UK legislative and regulatory processes.
- Familiarity with maritime, transport, energy, and climate policy frameworks.
- Excellent communication, negotiation, and relationship-building skills.
- Ability to manage multiple projects and work independently.
- Fluent in English (spoken and written); additional languages are a plus.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office and policy research tools.
